Conversion details:

2-berth campervan, seats 4 when travelling. This vehicle was converted by Wellhouse Leisure in Yorkshire 2 years ago and is a trade-in by another Wellhouse customer who has downsized to a smaller campervan. This is an excellent example of a well-maintained Wellhouse conversion which is as new.

The Toyota Noah is a compact car-size camper and with a slim elevating roof, it remains less than 2m high, so fits into underground car parks or under height barriers.

The conversion has a 2-ring gas hob, a sink with fresh water tank under vehicle and a Porta Potti cupboard. There is a separate leisure battery with a split charger which will charge via hook-up cable or when driving. 240v and 12v sockets are also inside the campervan along with a master leisure battery switch.

The rear bed is Wellhouse's rock n' roll bed which slides out in seconds and the front passenger swivel seat creates extra space. 2x 3-point rear seat-belts allow passengers to be carried in the rear.

Extras:

- Webasto petrol heater
- Hook-up cable
- Porta potti
- Camping gaz bottle
